Atal Incubation Centre - BIMTECH

Tathagat Innovest

AIC-BIMTECH was established under the aegis of Atal Innovation Mission, NITI Aayog, building on BIMTECH's 35+ year institutional legacy under the Birla Group. Over the years, the incubator has supported 500+ startups and enabled more than 7,000 jobs, contributing meaningfully to India's growing innovation ecosystem.

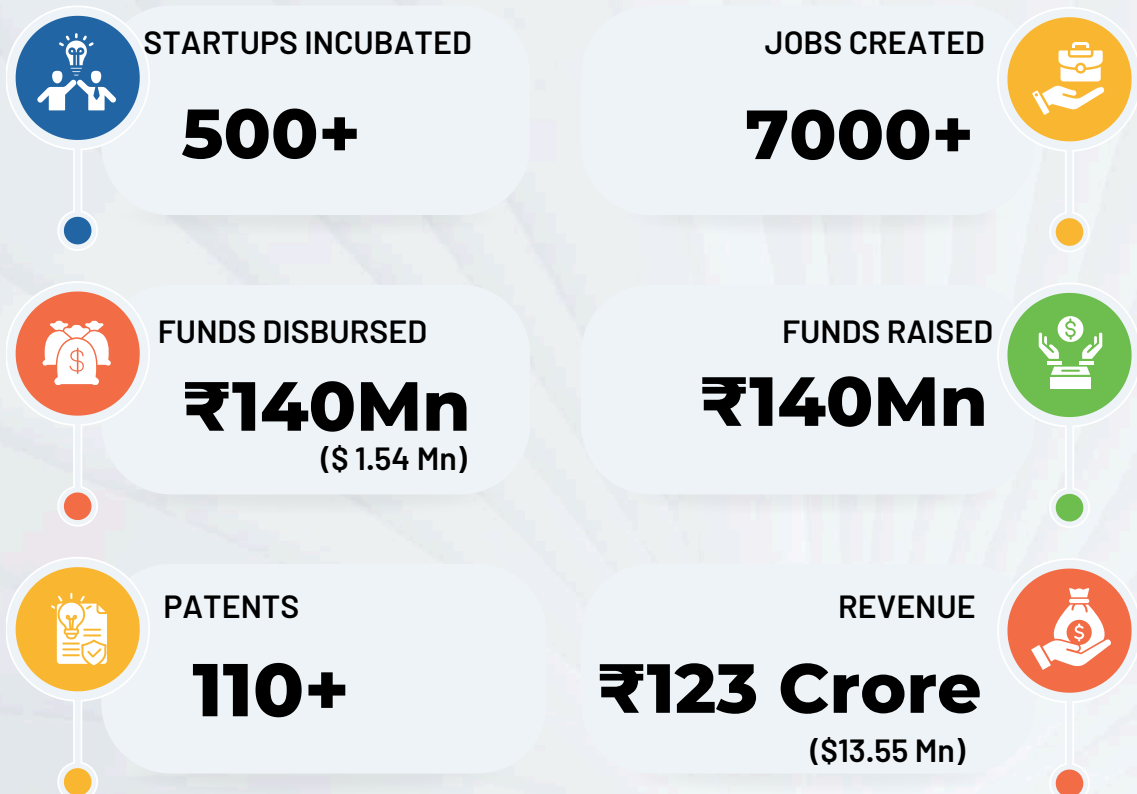

The centre is located in Greater Noida of Gautam Buddha Nagar district, one of India's fastest-growing districts, contributing over 10% to the state GDP of Uttar Pradesh.

The name "Tathagat", inspired by the philosophy of Gautam Buddha, reflects a vision of enlightened progress, purposeful innovation and collective growth. Inspired by this philosophy, "Tathagat Innovest" has been conceptualised as a platform to foster innovation, investment, and industry collaboration from Gautam Buddha Nagar.

It will bring together startups, investors, industry leaders, incubators, academic institutions, and government representatives to strengthen and accelerate the innovation ecosystem.

At the heart of this initiative the vision is to build India's First Innovation Corridor the Tathagat Innovation Corridor which is a collaborative effort between industry, incubators, academia and government aims to drive entrepreneurship, employment and enable sustainable development, aligned with the national vision of Viksit UP 2047 and Viksit Bharat 2047.

As part of this landmark initiative, the region will also host the Startup World Cup regional edition India, being organized for the first time by an incubation centre in India. The winning startup from this regional round will advance to the Global Grand Finale in San Francisco in November 2026, competing for a $1 million investment prize.
